Established Art Gallery, Michael Reid at Murrurundi, is situated in the beautiful grounds of historic Bobadil House. Bobadil House is one of the oldest surviving buildings in Murrurundi. Built of local sandstone in 1843 as the Woolpack Inn, it was constructed for the surveyor Henry Dangar. The market will be held behind the gallery in the Bobadil House Horse Paddock, which many years ago was used for accommodating the stage coach horses.

The Bobadil House Market will showcase a carefully selected range of talented stallholders who will offer for sale quality, handmade, localish goods and fresh produce.

Guests will park outside the market and enter the market via the double gates on Little Street, Murrurundi. In addition, the public can also park on Boyd Street, and enter through the gallery precinct - heading to the Horse Paddock. The market and gallery are connected and access between the two will be signposted.
